

Web Site Cookies

Our Site uses cookies to distinguish you from other visitors of our Site. This helps us to provide you with a good experience when you browse our Site and also allows us to improve our Site. (By continuing to browse the Site, you are agreeing to our use of cookies.) When you enter our Site for the first time and where we wish to issue your computer with a cookie, you will be asked to consent to such use. A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that we store on your browser or the hard drive of your computer if you agree. Many websites do this whenever a visitor visits their website in order to track traffic flows. If you wish to reject our cookie, you can decline our request, in which case you may not be able to use the Site or some parts of it. Additionally, you can configure your browser to do so, or you can ask your internet browser to alert you when a cookie is being set up. Cookies in themselves do not identify the individual user, just the computer used. Our Site uses a cookie tool that will store local cookies on your computer. By continued use of our website, you are agreeing to this cookie policy as well as the website terms and conditions. You may need to select your cookie preferences each time you visit our Site if you have chosen to disable all cookies or are accessing our Site from a different device. We use the following cookies:

- Strictly necessary cookies. These are cookies that are required for the operation of our Site. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of our Site, use a shopping cart or make use of e-billing services.
- Analytical/performance cookies. They allow us to do things such as recognise and count the number of users and to see how users move around our Site when they are using it. This helps us to improve the way our Site works, for example, by ensuring that visitors are finding what they are looking for easily. These cookies do not collect information which could be used to identify you.
- Functionality cookies. These are used to perform functions such as recognise you when you return to our Site and provide live chat facilities. This enables us to personalise our content for you, greet you by name and remember your preferences.
- Targeting cookies. These cookies record your visit to our Site, the pages you have visited and the links you have followed. We will use this information to make our Site and the advertising displayed on it more relevant to your interests. We may also share this information with third parties for this purpose.

Please note that third parties (including, for example, advertising networks and providers of external services like web traffic analysis services) may also use cookies, over which we have no control. These cookies are likely to be analytical/performance cookies or targeting cookies. Except for essential cookies, or where specified above, all cookies will expire after 2days.

Blocking Cookies You are able to block cookies by activating the setting on your browser that allows you to refuse the setting of all or some cookies. However, if you use your browser settings to block all cookies (including essential cookies) you may not be able to access all or parts of our Site. Information on how to block cookies can usually be found within the “Help” feature of your browser. Information can also be found on the main browser websites. <http://www.apple.com/safari/> (Apple Safari) <http://www.google.com/chrome> (Google Chrome) <http://www.microsoft.com> (Internet Explorer) <http://www.mozilla-europe.org/en/firefox> (Mozilla Firefox) <http://www.opera.com> (Opera)
